

10 Fundraising Ideas

Garage Sale: A good old-fashioned garage sale is always a great way to take your junk and make it someone else's treasure... all while raising funds for God's work in Haiti! An outdoor sale with tables appropriately spaced can be a safe and fun way to help the people of Haiti.

Resale Stores: Does a garage sale sound like too much work? Selling items at a local consignment shop, half-priced bookstore or pre-played game shop might be more your speed! Just collect items from friends and neighbors to sell! "Stuff, Etc." consignment in Cedar Rapids and Coralville, Iowa allows special accounts for non-profits.

Change Drive: One quarter might not seem like a lot, but when you combine it with 100 of its friends it can add up! Grab your kids and canvas your neighborhood asking for spare change to help the people of Haiti.

Drive-thru Farmer's Market: There's nothing more delicious than home-grown tomatoes or a fresh rhubarb pie! Set up a drive-thru Farmer's Market. Ask for donations of fresh garden produce, baked goods, cut flowers and more! Involve your church family and set up socially distant stands where customers can drive through and purchase your goods!

Free-Throw Challenge: Put your basketball shooting skills to the test with a classic free-throw challenge! To pull off this inexpensive fundraiser, all you need are some basketballs and outdoor hoops. Either charge a registration fee or take a peer-to-peer fundraising approach where friends and families can pledge to donate a certain amount for each free throw made.

One Mission Fundraising: Shop with a purpose! One Mission is a fundraising organization with a heart for Haiti. Start a fundraiser to sell the World Wide Village LUV ANYWAY custom tee, plus jewelry, soap, notecards, art prints, mugs, unique tees and more. 40% of each item sold will go directly to World Wide Village! - www.onemission.fund -

10,000 Steps Challenge: Reaching the number of daily recommended steps can be difficult. Get in shape and do good by taking the 10,000 steps challenge! Start a user-friendly, peer-to-peer fundraiser on the World Wide Village website and ask for donations for each day you reach your goal. Or work as a group to reach 1 million steps!

Photo Scavenger Hunt: Fall is the time for adventure and what's more adventurous than a scavenger hunt? This idea might take a bit more planning on your part, but with the right preparation, you can deliver an experience your supporters will never forget! Leave clues and challenges around your city for contestants to hunt down and complete. Charge family admission fees to participate as a donation to World Wide Village and even offer donated prizes to the finishers.

Facebook Fundraiser: Harness the power of social media with a Facebook fundraising campaign! Your social media networks are one of your most powerful tools when it comes to fundraising and getting the word out. Select a World Wide Village project that is near and dear to your heart and start raising funds on Facebook today!

You've Been Flocked! Who doesn't like a huge flock of bright pink flamingos in their yard? Well, most people! Which is exactly why it's fun to donate to a good cause to be able to "flock" your friends and neighbors! You could even socially distant the flamingos in the yard, just to be safe.
